Animal Protection

Everybody already knows that a ton of animals have been killed to supply natural leathers. According to Addis Ababa LLPI global Leather Industry report in 2014, The world's annual production of leather was 23bn Square Feet.

Of these, 35% of these had been used for finishing of vehicle, clothing, household furniture and ETC. Also, in terms of texture, elasticity, hydrolysis, the gap between natural and synthetic leather is on the decline gradually.

For this reason, the demand for synthetic leather is expected to rise further.
